INFORMATION

The Old Chapel

Outside to the front of the property you can find a generous private garden to enjoy plus a further separate wall enclosed courtyard style garden providing the perfect spot to relax peacefully with a glass of wine in the sunshine. Immediately adjacent to the property is an extra large double garage.

The extensive communal grounds offer a peaceful haven of established planting, historic landscaped gardens and a tranquil lake - to be enjoyed by the residents at their leisure. Having lain dormant for a number of years, this landmark site has been lovingly restored to its former glory and further enhanced to create a truly stunning environment in which to live. History will be preserved for ever within the bounds of this outstanding development yet with the benefit of modern living conveniences. Mellow flagstones and terracotta tiles intertwine with quality brickwork and reclaimed roofing materials, whilst the grounds have delightful original features strategically situated for the enjoyment of residents.

Stapenhill Abbey was built in the early 19th century and was home to the Holy Cross Abbey order of Cistercian Trappist nuns from 1802 to 1991. The founding group of women was led by Madame Augustin de Chabannes, a professed sister of the Parisian Abbey of Saint Antoine. She had been imprisoned in the Bastille, narrowly escaping the guillotine when the Bastille was stormed, and fleeing to Switzerland and a brief respite at La Val Sainte, before joining the monastic odyssey, which took the refugees across Europe in search of asylum. The church was built in 1847-51 and designed by Charles Hansom and the cemetery contains a memorial cross of 1844 by Pugin, commemorating the abbess Mde.de Chabannes.
